

PRESS RELEASE

EMBARGOED RELEASE

CONTACT:

Dr. Keith A. Robinson, Author
AlleyGrin Productions, LLC
Email: drkeith@alleygrinproductions.com
Phone: 713-826-3220

Dr. Keith A. Robinson Unveils Provocative New Political Satire Book Titled: "Now That Makes Me Madsm...About Politics"

[HOUSTON, TEXAS] – [JUNE 29, 2024] – In his latest book, "Now That Makes Me Madsm...About Politics," medical/political satirist Dr. Keith A. Robinson draws a startling comparison between the current state of the US open border and a human body without skin. This metaphor underscores the nation's vulnerability to threats due to unchecked borders and poor leadership. With 'no skin' in the game, liberal Democrats invite significant risks to America.

Dr. Robinson's metaphor serves as a clarion call for action, urging policymakers and citizens alike to recognize the urgency of the situation as they prepare for their individual, life-saving moment in the voting booth. The book includes insightful chapters such as:

- "The Current State of Politics" – An overview of today's volatile political climate and the inherent risks we face unless substantial changes occur.
- "Wrong People... Wrong Jobs" – A critique of unqualified politicians currently in power.
- "An Exclusive Interview with the Spirit of President Joe Biden" – A satirical take on President Joe Biden's possible motivations.
- "Curse Your Children" – Examining the long-term impact of today's political decisions on future generations.
- "Unjustice for All" – Highlighting judicial corruption, cloaked lies, prosecutorial power, vanishing Constitutional boundaries, and presumptions of societal fairness.

Complementing these thought-provoking chapters are original political cartoons that vividly underscore the stakes for America. These illustrations provide a visual punch, driving home the book's critical messages with humor and clarity.

About the Author:

Dr. Keith A. Robinson is a prolific screenwriter, Amazon.com Best-Selling Author, former nationally syndicated healthcare host/broadcaster (America Talks Healthsm with Dr. Keith Robinson), police chaplain (Ret.), and satirist known for his insightful and often controversial takes on contemporary issues. With a unique healthcare past and a flair for applying humor when least expected, he has carved out a one-of-a-kind niche in the literary world, challenging readers to think critically about healing America.

Endorsement by Navy SEAL Dr. Thomas White, PhD:

"Combining humor, agitation, and profound insights, Navy SEAL (Ret.) Dr. Thomas White's foreword sets the stage for an eye-opening journey through modern America's political challenges. 'Now That Makes Me Madsm...About Politics' will resonate deeply with those who believe it's time for a leadership change."

For media inquiries, interviews, or review copies, please contact:
Dr. Keith A. Robinson, Author
AlleyGrin Productions, LLC
Email: drkeith@alleygrinproductions.com
Mobile: 713-826-3220

"Now That Makes Me Mad...About Politics" will be available at major retailers, online bookstores, and www.alleygrinproductions.com.

Disclaimer: This political satire is an opinionated representation of current events and should be interpreted within Dr. Robinson's uniquely conservative, humorous, and insightful perspective on politics.

